COMMENTS: My husband & I own a property along the cliff path very close to Tradewinds Cafe, we also own a beach hut with the bay. I have lived here for nearly 40 years and have watched a continual decline in the tourist trade within Sandown, Shanklin bay. It is really encouraging to see the redevelopment of these dated beach front cafes that hold the key to getting tourists back on our beaches. We believe that by Tradewinds cafe holding an alcohol licence it will make our bay more appealing to visitors from across the island as well as the mainland, enabling a choice of venue to relax and enjoy our island beaches in turn bringing life & business to our community.

COMMENTS: To whom it may concern, I would support the above application for the Tradewinds Cafe to be able to sell alcohol as it can only enhance the already wonderfully developed establishment in its 'attractiveness' for tourists. Through the owners' efforts and the aesthetically pleasing improvements to the cafe, the vastly improved menu, there is a natural continuation to compliment all of this in being able to serve alcohol.

As I am sure people will agree, the experience the owners have in running an already successful and established business in the East Wight, would support their application for Tradewinds to hold a Licence. They have never to date had an issue related to alcohol with the Cafe in Ryde, and manage the venue with responsibility and due care for the public as well as their customers. And I have no reservation in saying this would be upheld at Tradewinds.

I can only support initiatives to help improve Sandown and bring more people to experience the wonderful amenities we have to offer particularly in Sandown Bay itself. How more idyllic could it be for a family to be by the sea; with the parents to be able to enjoy lunch with a glass of wine or a beer, whilst the children are enjoying the outdoor healthy life using the Water Sports centre to which it is adjacent to. The Island lends itself so perfectly to promoting and supporting quality family time, and to support developments of facilities in becoming more attractive to achieving this is wonderful. I hope this application is approved. yours sincerely Mrs Payne

COMMENTS: As frequent visitors to the Dell Cafe in Ryde we were excited to see that the owners had purchased Tradewinds, just a short walk from our beach hut along the revetment. I believe this bring significant attraction to the area. I have had several comments from different friends from all over the island about how they will visit based on their positive reputation. I will therefore see no reason not to support the application for a premises alcohol licence.

COMMENTS: I visited Tradewinds on several occasions last year with friends and family. It is in a lovely setting, with great food served by lovely, friendly people. I remember the premises from years ago and must say how impressed I am with the alterations they have made. It is now a much more welcoming place to stop on a weekend stroll along the revetment. The one thing that would improve it is if they were able to offer alcohol as well, as I (along with many others I'm sure) do enjoy a glass of wine occasionally on a lunchtime, with a nice meal. Therefore I would ask you to please consider my comments during the application of licensing for these premises. Kind regards Susan M Corby

COMMENTS: I have been using Tradewinds for many years now both with the previous owners and more recently with the current family. I regularly use Tradewinds with my Wife and 9yrs Son, along with friends that also have young children. We continue to use the site as it has such a lovely chilled atmosphere and most of the facilities that we want from a beach site cafe. I would fully support Tradewinds being licensed as to have a chilled beer or glass of wine at the beach is a facility offered elsewhere but not at this site and one I for one would enjoy and make us use the place more often. I would not be concerned with regards the negative impact alcohol can have as I know the current owners would not want to change the friendly family atmosphere that there is and has always been Tradewinds' main selling point.

I understand that the lack of toilets may be an issue for some, but we as a family plan for this on the way there and if required the local public toilets are only 5 minutes away. I also believe people would bear this fact in mind and watch the amount of liquid they actually consume. If you require any further comment please get in contact.

COMMENTS: Speaking on behalf of my family, including Molly our dog we would love nothing more than to be able to sit at Tradewinds after a long day at work and relax with a glass of wine whilst gazing at the sea. How wonderful to see Tradewinds offering such a fabulous retreat that caters for families, dog walkers, surfers and holiday makers as well as beach hut owners. Karen Hughes

COMMENTS: I would like to support this application. I believe the applicants are responsible and have an excellent track record. I also feel that if the licence is granted the addition of alcoholic drinks to the menu at Tradewinds will be enjoyed by both residents and tourists.

COMMENTS: Would like to submit my comments RE Tradewinds licence application , as residents of Sandown we are in favour of this application as we feel not only would we benefit from this but also be favourable for tourists visiting the Island . We strongly promote any business trying to move forward and improve Sandown and feel this will attract more visitors to this area making it a desirable place to relax and enjoy the beach . We have ourselves been to Tradewinds on numerous occasions it is extremely pleasant , tastefully decorated and provides excellent food of a very high standard. The café itself is immaculate and the owners take great care to make sure the surrounding area is kept to the this standard .

COMMENTS: As part of a family who own one of the beach huts close to Tradewinds I would like to support their licensing application. I cannot see any issues with disturbance as this is a family run business which is aiming to serve a few alcoholic beverages alongside food in a relaxed cafe atmosphere. It is not trying to attract a crowd of 'drinkers' or create a bar or put on entertainment. The style of the cafe and distance along the revetment mean that it is hugely unlikely that you would attract this even if you were trying to! Instead it will be a pleasant stop for a beer or a glass of wine with lunch. I fully support this application and hope that they are successful.

COMMENTS: As a regular lunch time customer I think it would be lovely to have a glass of wine with my lunch when I visit. Having also worked in local tourism for over 10 years, I think island visitors would also enjoy it as it's such a lovely walk to Tradewinds from Sandown.

COMMENTS: I believe the granting of a licence to Tradewinds Cafe will enhance this business and create a more buzzy vibe which is much needed in this part of the Bay. Clearly the Owners already run the Dell Cafe in Ryde which is of course a landmark business on the beach there. If they can replicate their success in their new venture in Lake everybody will benefit. Employment, tourism and the economy. I would urge the council to grant this licence.

COMMENTS: I would like to support this application as I think it would be good to offer customers the facility in enjoying a alcoholic beverage with their meal which most seaside cafes are able to do. I have a beach hut at Dunroamin and I can't see that it would be detrimental to the area for Trade Winds cafe to be granted the licence. Mrs Hawkes runs an excellent establishment in a very responsible way and the granting of a licence will only add to the dining experience.

COMMENTS: Dear Sirs I am writing in support of the Licence Application for Tradewinds Café. The owners of this business are a responsible couple, and being able to provide a glass of wine to customers enjoying a meal would help to make the business more viable, which in turn can only be to the benefit of all. They also have to compete with other businesses nearby that already have Licences. The owners of this business also own another café, The Dell Café in Puckpool Park, for which they have a Licence. This café is run in a professional manner with no alcohol related problems and I do not see any reason why Tradewinds Café would be any different. Regards Alexander Thomas COMMENTS: I write in support of the current application for a licence. This cafe is very professionally run and it is my view that the owners would be responsible licencees. I do not believe that this venue is a place where excessive consumption of alcohol is likely but more a place where a glass of wine could be enjoyed with lunch. It is my view that a successful application would benefit both tourists and locals alike.

COMMENTS: I support this application 100% Thank god business's are starting to change to what people want in Sandown and not kept in the dark ages. Lets help business's move forward and catch up with the modern world.....

We have had a beach hut very close to trade winds for over 40 years and i can't wait to go to trade winds and have some lunch and a glass of beer or wine.... Every other holiday destination that i have been to you would have this luxury at a beach side cafe and we need to be offering more to tourists and locals...

Mr and Mrs Hawkes also run The Dell Cafe in Ryde which has a licence and we frequent this location a lot. They run a very, very good business, and i have never ever seen any issues because of them having a licence. They have a great reputation in running beach side cafe's and I have never heard any negative comments..

By gaining a licence doesn't spell trouble, its not doom and gloom and can only be positive. People need to look more favourably about these types of applications for a licence. I would be extremely disappointed if this wasn't granted and I hope the IOW council looks upon this application positively. We need to improve the offering and allow business's like Tradewind's to develop into a bustling business's along Sandown Bay. Br Nick Clemens
