Good morning Debbie,

Thank you for your response below.

From a Licensing perspective and looking at the companies website which is Locations | Eat Street IOW the locations to where they will temporarily inhabit are primarily non-residential, with the exception of Mill Hill Road in Cowes.

The business is also operating as a food led operation therefore any alcohol that is being collected will in the vast majority be complimented by a food order. Customers will also not be able to just turn up to place an order as this has to be made online prior to the collection.

With the above points in mind and from a licensing perspective I would state that there would be no significant impact on the licensing objectives.

Should any instances of nuisance be reported due to the direct activity or authorisation contained within the licence (if granted) then we and potentially Environment Health would look to address such issues through our respective enforcement powers.

During the consultation period the Police (from a crime and disorder perspective) and Environmental Health (from a nuisance perspective) have not submitted any concerns in relation to the proposed activity, therefore could I ask that CTC review the above and inform us as to whether you still wish your representation to stand.

If this is the case then Licensing will look to progress to arranging for a hearing to take place where CTC can attend to explain and discuss there concerns in order for the Licensing Sub Committee to come to a determination in relation to the application,

Kind regards

Hi Shane

We appreciate that the sales are online but they will be collecting the alcohol and food from a horsebox outside of a residential premises up to 23:00 hours each day. Councillors felt that this could cause a nuisance a public nuisance to local neighbours, if those collecting have already consumed alcohol, there could be a crime and disorder problem, therefore causing a risk to public safety.

These are the concerns that CTC have on this matter.

Good morning Debbie,

Thank you for your comments below.

Just to clarify the application and proposed licensable activity (i.e. sale of alcohol) will only be permitted via online orders and no physical sales or consumption of alcohol under the authorisation of the proposed licence will take place at the residential premises which is noted within the application.

In order for Licensing to be able to consider CTC representation we will also need to understand how you feel the granting of this licence will significantly impact on the licensing objectives that you have detailed.

When responding to the above, if CTC have not already done so, please refer to section M of the application which will detail certain steps that the applicant will take (theses will be conditioned as part of the licence if granted) in promoting and upholding the licensing objectives.

Kind regards
