Dear Scheme Employer

Further to our previous email of 30 March 2022, these training sessions are an excellent opportunity for you to understand your role and statutory responsibilities as an employer in the LGPS. There has been significant interest and a number of the dates shown are now fully booked. Thank you to those employers who've shown interest and booked a place for one of these sessions. To those of you that plan to attend, but have not started your application, can we suggest you do so sooner rather than later to ensure you have a place. As mentioned in our previous email we would ask that you notify us which date you will be attending. We believe that employer understanding of their role within the LGPS is important so we will be reporting the level of engagement to the Pension Fund Committee in due course.

Kind regards
